There is a lot of beauty around me and I love them all. To name some, the soothing warmth of the morning sunlight, the pleasant sound of the birds chirping, smelling the fresh and gentle breeze blowing through the trees, and last but not least, 'Hello, how are you!', 'Have a good day!', I believe that you can always hear and see some homeless people greeting you.

What is better than a nice sunshine when you open your eyes in the morning? At the moment when I look at the rays of sun, I feel really warm, and it gives me a lot of positives feeling, I want to hug the sun. Every morning the ray of sun shine on my bed, and my bed gets warmer. The sunshine visit my room every morning without asking, and I never complain.

When I am looking at the sunshine I hear the bird chirping it is so nice and wonderful. It makes me awake. The color of bird is so bright red, blue, it let me feel really fresh.

There is always some good things around you, you need a pair of eyes that will find beauty!
